Steps to Earning the CHE® Designation

1. Qualifications

Be sure you meet the CHE® program requirements listed at the top of the attached Application Form.

2. Application and Tuition

Apply early (at least six weeks before your preferred workshop date), since each workshop is limited to 25 participants and you will need time to complete your pre-workshop activities. Submit your CHE® Application Form, up-to-date resume, and the full tuition fee of U.S. $600 in the U.S., Canada, and Mexico (U.S. $650 in other countries). Fees are subject to change.

3. Recommendation

Ask your academic administrator to complete and submit the attached CHE® Recommendation Form. (Recommendations from relatives are not accepted.)

4. Notice of Acceptance/Pre-Workshop Materials

Within two weeks of submitting your application materials, you will receive written notice of the Professional Certification Department's decision regarding your eligibility for the CHE® program. Along with your acceptance, you will receive confirmation of your workshop site and date and your self-study materials. Complete the assignments as preparation for your workshop.

5. Three-Day Workshop (4-Day International)

Actively participate in the entire workshop, facilitated by AHLEI-approved instructional experts. Each day's session begins at 8:00 a.m. Dress is business casual. Experiment with new techniques through evening assignments.

6. Written Examination

To prove your mastery of the workshop material, successfully complete the CHE® written examination.

7. Final Evaluation

Receive an overall evaluation of your qualifications for the CHE® designation. Instructional experts will look at your self-study materials and individual assignments, your participation in workshop discussions, the results of your written exam.

8. CHE® Recognition

Attain the CHE® designation and receive a lapel pin and certificate plaque to demonstrate your achievements.

Recertification

Gain recognition for your ongoing contributions to hospitality by earning recertification every five years. To maintain your CHE® designation, simply choose from flexible options that combine your teaching experience, continuing education, professional affiliations, and other educational service. At the time of renewal, submit documentation of your activities with the recertification fee of U.S. $200 (subject to change). If you do not meet the requirements, your CHE® status expires after five years.

CHE® Policies

Application Process

Each application is reviewed by the Professional Certification Department. Should candidacy status be denied for any reason, you will be notified in writing.

An appeal for reconsideration can be made in writing to the Certification Commission Appeals Committee. You must submit the original application, all supporting documentation, and a letter outlining the reasons for reconsideration. The Committee will review these materials and render a decision in writing.

Examination/Presentation Results

The certification examination is based on proficiency and not on achievement. Therefore, the grading standard is set on a pass/fail basis with an actual numerical score being revealed. Examination results will be mailed directly to you.

Examination/Presentation Second Opportunity

Should you be unsuccessful in completing the exam on your first attempt, two additional opportunities to take the CHE® examination are available at U.S. $50.00 each. Candidates not completing all of the program requirements within six months of enrollment are required to reapply to the program and submit all fees in order to be reenrolled.
